

CP4 Cable Protectors

Cable Protection Systems: Internal and External

Our range of cable protection systems have been designed for a variety of purposes:

For offices - Reduce trip hazards associated with running cables around the office. Computer network cables, telephone lines and power chords are part of the furniture in the modern day office. Good cable management is essential to protecting both employees and cables alike. We offer a number of economical cable protection systems to help.

For external use - Protect valuable hoses, cables and pipes from being crushed by vehicular traffic. Sometimes it's just unavoidable, a cable or hose just needs to be routed across road. Burying the cable is cost prohibitive, so a protective system is needed. Our heavy duty Cablesafe system has been designed to protect your valuable cables and hoses from even the heaviest traffic types.
